Why choose The Old Hall Hotel?

Group requirements are catered for with careful planning and flexibility at the Old Hall Hotel. There's nothing packaged about our service. Everyone will receive the utmost care and attention from our experienced staff. We can help you, from planning menus, schedules, bedroom allocation and room hire to organised trips.

It's a unique place to stay ...reputedly the oldest hotel in England

Dating back to 1573, The Old Hall Hotel is said to be the oldest hotel in England and built on the site of a natural warm spring. In more recent times Mary Queen of Scots had apartments here, and since her stay many famous and interesting people have slept away the nights in the hotel's ancient rooms. Our 38 bedrooms are all individual and sympathetically restored with modern facilities.

It's an ideal base to explore ...the Peak District and beyond

There is so much to see and do around Buxton you'll need to plan your visit well. There's something for every interest, from the beautiful homes and castles at Chatsworth Estate and Haddon Hall; the spectacular Blue John and Speedwell Caverns at Castleton and Pooles Cavern just five minutes away. The National Tramway Museum at nearby Crich or the stunning Heights of Abraham at Matlock Bath. And of course, we're only a short distance from the cities of Manchester, Chesterfield and Sheffield. The choice is yours and we can help you plan and book activities.

It's in the heart of Buxton ...the spa town of the Peak District

Buxton is a beautiful market town bursting with visitor attractions, so there really is something for everyone. The Old Hall Hotel sits right in the centre of town opposite a beautiful park and the picturesque Pavilion Gardens. Within just a short walk you'll find boutique shops and the town's many cafes, restaurants and wine bars. Two minutes from the hotel there's Buxton Museum and the Art Gallery and no visit is complete without an evening or matinee performance at the beautiful Buxton Opera House. We can book discounted tickets and pre and post theatre dinners are served at the Old Hall Hotel every day.

Award-winning dining experience ...the very best in traditional and contemporary cuisine

We offer a range of dining options amidst sumptuous surroundings and beautiful views. Our chefs use fresh local produce and combined with a wine cellar to match the demands of the most informed diners, it's the perfect venue whatever the occasion. Choose from our À La Carte restaurant or the more informal wine bar and Orchestra Pit. We can arrange private dining in advance at no extra cost for your group needs.
